

Leadership Service in Action Wessington Springs Junior High FCCLA Chapter 2016-2017

Chapter members created items for the silent auction for the Volley for the Cure Event that raises money for our local cancer support group. The members also sponsored a Comfy Couch raffle that evening.

Volley for a Cure raises awareness, over $3000 for local cancer fund

A big crowd decked out in pink filled the gym to witness a Lady Spartan volleyball victory over Gregory Friday. The game was held in conjunction with Volley for a Cure, a cancer awareness event that raised $3,100 through a silent auction, bake sale, various raffles and other fundraisers for Weskota Foundation's Cancer Awareness fund. The fund provides cancer awareness, education and prevention-based activities in Jerould County. Pictured clockwise from left: WSHS senior Jaycee Hohn jumps up for a spike during action-packed play in Friday's game. Local hair salon owners Jen Kolousek and Angie Mentzer donated their time to apply pink dye in attend-

ee's hair to help raise funds for the local cancer fund (top). Maddie Neely tips the ball over the net during the final regular season game for the Lady Spartans (lower photo). Tali Heim spikes the ball over the net during Friday's Volley for a Cure event. Sierra Swenson lunges in for a bump during last week's victory over Gregory. A wide variety of auction items helped make the cancer awareness fundraiser a huge success. Rita and Dan Edzards won the "comfy couch" drawing. They enjoyed pizza, pop and the luxury of watching the game on a couch, brought in specifically for the fundraiser. See Coach Neely's regular season recap on PAGE ELEVEN
