

Families First – Integrating Spanish and American Culture Wessington Springs Senior FCCLA Chapter 2017-2018

Andrea Gonzalez worked with the first grade and their parents to bring awareness of the integration of Spanish and American culture. In the classroom students learned basic Spanish terminology, which they shared through interactive worksheets with their parents after the classroom presentations. The project culminated in a family lunch where the families of the students came to school for a lunch and program presented by the students.

Clockwise starting at top left: Andrea teaches first grade students how to introduce themselves in Spanish. A student holds one of the interactive worksheets he is to share with his parents. Andrea works with students to say their colors in Spanish.
